PASTOR'S POST

Last Stops on the Lenten Journey:

The Blind See - The Dead Are Raised

4th & 5th Sundays in Lent

March 26 & April 2, 2017

Dear friends in Christ:

As you may be aware, Callie Santora, our office manager and weekly Shepherd's Voice editor and publisher, will be away the week of March 27-31 to visit family in Eastern Washington, so we are doing a special double issue this week covering the next two Sundays, March 26 and April 2, the last two stops on our Lenten journey toward the decisive events of Holy Week. And please note the calendars with the lay ministry assignments on them. Lectors, tech, ushers, fellowship servers, and acolytes are all vitally important to our life together as a church family. If you see places where you could sign up to help please do so.

So our Lenten journey is drawing to its terrible and yet wonderful conclusion now. The last two stops on that journey are really quite astounding, and they invite us to deep spiritual reflection. This Sunday, the 4th Sunday in Lent, the Gospel to be read is the story of the man born blind in John 9. Are we not all spiritually blind at times? Do we not all fail to see the goodness of God as the blind man saw? With delightful irony John shows us how a man born blind can see far better than some who has the use of two good eyes.

The following Sunday, April 2, is the 5th and last Sunday in Lent. The Gospel for that Sunday is the story of the raising of Lazarus from John 11. Lazarus and his sisters Mary and Martha were among Jesus' close friends. They lived in Bethany not far from Jerusalem. Not to be missed in this a story is the love of Jesus for his friend Lazarus who has died. It is here that we read the shortest verse in the Bible: "Jesus wept" (John 11:35). In spite of the fact that Jesus restores Lazarus to life, John 11 ends on an ominous note. Outraged at Jesus' growing popularity, and indeed his divine power over death itself, the religious establishment declares its intention to kill Jesus, which foreshadows Jesus' passion and death in the week to follow.

This time of the year our language is especially important. We need to be aware of how our words may be heard by others. For example, in John's Gospel, and in the New Testament generally, the members of the opposition that Jesus encounters is often called simply "the Jews." In today's world that kind of language can be heard as anti-Semitic, as prejudice against Jewish people in general.

We live in a day and time when prejudice, racial hatred, hateful words, and a general intolerance of people who are, or choose to be, different than ourselves, are on the rise in many places: in the media, in our politics, and sadly even in some religions. So it is important for faithful Christians to understand that it was not the race or the ethnicity of the people who opposed Jesus that is the point. It is rather their (and our) spiritual blindness to the message of Jesus that is the point. Like Lazarus, without Jesus, we are all dead in our sins. The good news of the Gospel is that God is love, and Jesus, as the Son of God, came among us to show mercy, and not to condemn or judge people. See John 3:16-18

Sadly Christians of the past hatefully and wrongly condemned "Jews" as a race of people for "murdering Jesus." Certainly Martin Luther himself often seems quite hateful toward the Jewish people in some of his writings, as he also expresses hateful words towards Roman Catholics, Calvinists, and the followers of Ulrich Zwingli, and everyone else who disagreed with him. Simply put Luther was NOT a very tolerant person.

No one can deny Luther's important contributions to the reform of the church, which was very much needed. But we should understand he was still a man of his times, and he was a sinner just like you and me. He got some things terribly wrong. Our church does not claim divine inspiration for Luther's writings.

We also have the terrible evidence of the Holocaust. Many members of Christian churches, including Lutherans, stood by and did nothing while Jewish people and other non-conforming minorities were carted off to slave labor and extermination in concentration camps by the Nazi regime. The Nazi Holocaust is a terrible but important reminder of what happens when hate and racism go unchecked by laws that protect human rights.

For these historic and many other reasons it is very important for Christians today to be cautious about intolerance, racism, prejudice and hatred in thought, speech or action. They can easily creep into our conversations. That's especially true when it comes to the decisive events of Holy Week.

So as we come to these important days let us remember that the root cause of hatred, racism, and prejudice is self-righteousness. Ultimately it was our sins that put Jesus to death on the cross. He accepted the "cup" of suffering and death for the life of the world. One of our Holy Week hymns includes this important verse:

Who was the guilty? Who brought this upon Thee?

Alas my treason, Jesus, hath undone Thee.

'Twas I, Lord Jesus, I it was denied Thee;

I crucified Thee.

Authentic Christianity has no place for blaming others for the sufferings and death of Jesus. The root cause of His anguish is obvious. We see it whenever we look in the mirror.

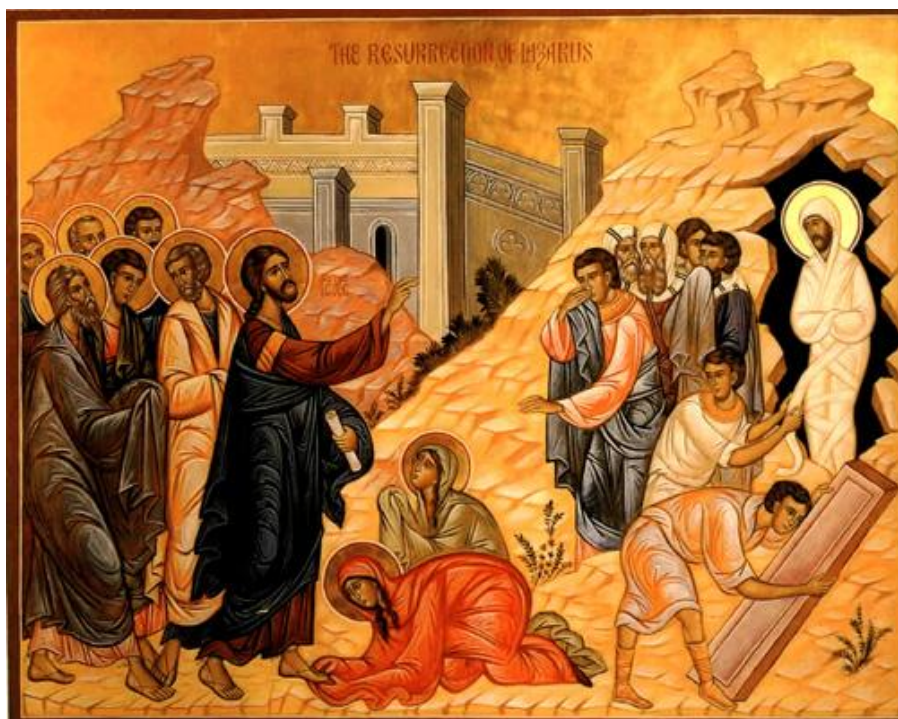

God give us a blessed closure to our Lenten journey over the next two Sundays, and bring us to a new awareness of the terrible wonder of God's mercy for sinners during Holy Week that we may be prepared with joy to celebrate the Festival of the Resurrection of our Lord on Easter Sunday.

In Christ,

Pastor Joe Hughes

OUR BIBLE READING CHALLENGE

SYLLABUS AND READING ASSIGNMENTS in MATTHEW, THE GOSPEL OF IDENTITY February–May 2017

The Biblical Equipping Ministry Team is challenging everyone in at Shepherd of the Valley to read and study the Gospel of Matthew using Michael Card's book Matthew, the Gospel of Identity. Card argues that Matthew's first hearers (intended audience) were Jewish people who accepted Jesus as the messiah (Christ) and were probably living in or from Galilee in the time after Jesus' death and resurrection. Galilee was a land in turmoil. The Romans had destroyed the Jerusalem temple and many Jewish freedom fighters had died in the wars with the Roman occupation forces.

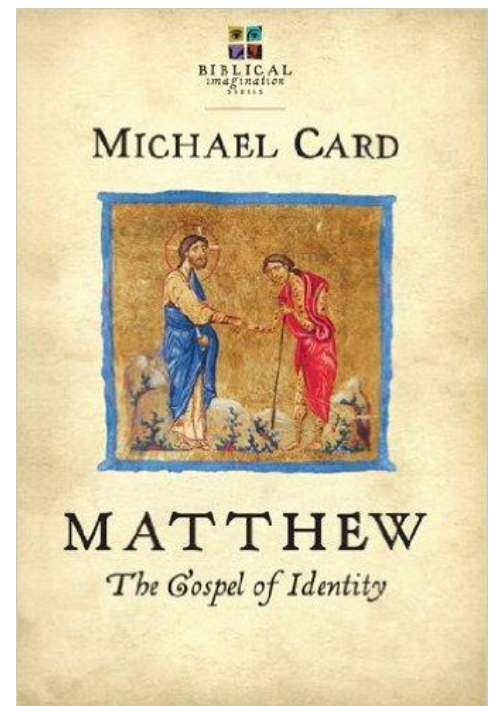

Not all Jews accepted that Jesus was the promised Messiah, as is obvious from the story of Jesus' passion and death. Those who did were a relatively small group that at first tried to blend in with those who did not. By the time Matthew's Gospel was in written form these Jewish Christians were being "stripped of their Jewish identity," expelled from synagogues and shunned by main line Judaism, says Michael Card.

The first listeners of the Gospel of Matthew may have been living that experience, propelling them to ask the question, "Who am I, really?" In Matthew Jesus redefines the identity of his followers in light of His own identity and Immanuel, Go with us." In Him they are fishers of people, inviting the poor, sinful and unclean to enter the new kingdom on Jesus' authority, by "following Jesus," and ultimately sent into the world to "make disciples of all nations." (Card, pp 20-21).

What can we discover about what it means to be called to follow Jesus as a "priesthood of believers" from the Gospel of Matthew? How does God call us to embrace a new identity as followers of Jesus in the world today? Join the lively conversation Sundays, 10:30-11:30 AM.

LUTHERFEST 2017 IN REVIEW

Thanks to 253 enthusiastic guests, generous sponsors, a terrific planning team, supportive beer and cheese vendors, OSU speakers representing fermentation science and the on-campus creamery, student leaders, and lots of volunteers, Lutherfest 2017 was a great success. We raised almost $10,000 for Luther House programming in 2017. A traveling trophy was awarded to Our Saviour's Lutheran (Lebanon) as the congregation with the largest contingent of guests present. Nine gift baskets were presented to lucky ticket holders. The planning team is already looking ahead and has chosen Sunday, February 25, 2018, as the likely – but tentative – date for Lutherfest 2018. Save the date, get your tastebuds ready, and plan to join the fun.

LUTHERGARTEN PROJECT

Luther House students and youth from Grace Lutheran (Corvallis) have decided to join forces and raise enough money (500€) to plant a commemorative tree in Wittenberg, Germany, at the Lutheran World Federation's Luthergarten <http://www.luthergarten.de/welcome.html> in celebration of the 500th anniversary of the Reformation. It will be planted April 18. Names of both ministries will appear on the plaque that identifies "our" tree. A scripture chosen by our groups will also appear on the plaque: "For you shall go forth in joy, and be led back in peace; the mountains and the hills before you shall burst into song, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands" (Isaiah 55:12). Our very own Markus Woltjer will visit the tree this summer and take pictures to send our way when he travels to see his grandparents who live in Wittenberg. A condition of the tree planting in Wittenberg is that we plant one or more trees in Corvallis to reinforce the Reformation celebration locally. Plans are underway to select a tree and location for this purpose. Our fundraiser is the annual Easter Breakfast, April 16, 9:30-11:00 in Grace's Ronnenkamp Hall. All donations will help us reach our goal. They'll be supplemented with Thrivent Action Team dollars to offset expenses for the breakfast. Please join us for breakfast and help us reach our goal.

CALL COMMITTEE BEGINS WORK

A team of six people – Mark Bringman, Erin Radniecki, Frank Davis, Sandi Phibbs, Chris Sims, and Kelly Cooper – has been named to serve as the Call Committee that will search for Pr. Jim's successor. They've already had a couple organizational meetings and received paperwork for prospective candidates. Please keep them in your prayers as they sift through candidate information, assess the needs and opportunities for pastoral leadership at Luther House, and eventually select a person who will take this ministry into its next chapter.

LUTHER HOUSE MONTH AT GRACE

Spring always means that Luther House is featured during adult education hour at Grace Lutheran Church, Corvallis. This year is no different, except it's Pr. Jim's last chance to lead the class as campus pastor. In an effort to think together out loud about the scope of his ministry at Luther House since 1995, he's offering a three-part series under the broad title "So, What Have I Been Doing for 22 Years?" Each week he'll answer that question by focusing on a distinct theme – "Providing Hospitality" (April 23), "Building Community" (April 30), and "Inspiring Service" (May 7). You're invited to join the journey and be part of the conversation as he reflects on ministry as it's been and imagines ministry as it might be. It's free and open to the public. All classes meet in the Ronnenkamp Hall, 9:45-10:45.
